Keep Your Business in Alignment with Canada's New Privacy Law

The Personal Information Protection and Electronic Documents Act (PIPEDA) is Canada's national data privacy regulation that specifies how the private sector should handle consumer data. PIPEDA covers any information used by companies during the course of commercial activity and applies to any business that operates in Canada or handles personal information that crosses Canadian provincial or national borders.

RSI Security's PIPEDA compliance services will help you safely and securely conduct business in every Canadian province, whether you're in retail, finance, healthcare or any other business; our experienced business and technical teams will help you assess your PIPEDA readiness, develop a plan for compliance, and guide you through implementation.
